To all faculties and related units:

According to the notice from the Department of Higher Education of the Ministry of Education, the declaration work of "Selection of National Planning Textbook in the '11th Five-Year Plan' of General Higher Education" will be started soon. The following is the notification of the declaration work:

I. Please attach great importance to this work in each college and organize it carefully.

Textbooks are the basic tools for teaching and an important guarantee for improving teaching quality. Textbook construction is an important content of teaching reform and an important reflection of the results of teaching reform. Each college should pay great attention to it.

National Planning Textbook in the 11th Five-Year Plan of General Higher Education are the only "National Planning Textbooks" during the period of the 11th Five-year Plan in China. The compilation of these textbooks not only reflects the level of textbook construction and teaching level of each university, but also provides an opportunity for all institutions of higher education in China (including 211 universities) to compete and cooperate on the same platform. The planning cycle of these teaching materials is 5 years, and the compilation work is urgent. All schools should pay great attention to it and organize teachers to actively participate in the declaration work.

For the current selection about the National Planning Textbook in the 11th Five-Year Plan, universities shall declare and apply to relevant publishing houses, and the relevant publishing houses will then declare and apply to Department of Higher Education of the Ministry of Education. Upon the organization of review for subjects declared by various publishing houses, the Department of Higher Education will issue the approval of the projects.

II. Dedicated staff and careful planning.

Each colleges shall organize all departments to have symposium, and complete the declaration work about the selection based on practical results and experiences of teaching reform in various disciplines in recent years and the implementation progress of subject construction, quality course construction and teaching reform programs. Various schools shall establish a teaching reform and textbook construction team presided over by academic leader, professor and vice-professor. The members of the team shall include core teacher. We should try our best to make breakthrough in the declaration work about the selection of National Planning Textbook in the 11th Five-Year Plan of General Higher Education, and lay a sound foundation for the improvement of the teaching standard and quality, the declaration of the future teaching achievement awards and construction of quality courses.

The compilation of national-level teaching materials will become an important part of the teaching reform achievements and can be used to participate in the evaluation and assessment of the next national and municipal teaching achievement awards.
